

Lightning Departure

Anusha Chandramohan

It is too early for us to part,
Better late than never, they say,
But, now it is soon and ever,
Will come a day to get things done,
But, I think of the days we spent
They call it as 'UBISUNT' motif,
It is after all, true that U & ME spent
Of course, this piece is pessimistic
Because, my heart couldn't be optimistic at this hour.
We were in an illusion that we will be t'gether
But, it may come a day that we couldn't gather.
This is a time for us to part in our part.
So, let us gather here to part.
I bow to the heads we met,
I bow to the place we were in,
And these place & people we met,
Left a mark in my heart with an arrow of-
Tongue and smile.
This is an eternal bow & arrow that,
Shows me the life's message:
"THIS WILL ALSO MOVE ONNNNNN...."

Anusha Chandramohan, based in Bangalore, is an independent researcher. She can be contacted at engving92@gmail.com