

SHE

Dr. Shalini Bhargava

She is a blend of Beauty and Brain;
She has the endurance for Adversity and Pain.
Her love knows no limits and bounds;
But her fury and wrath on right grounds-
Can destroy the universe full of brutal hounds;
She is the pivot of her in habitation,
Her roles are diverse and defined by limitations.
She is the mother, sister, daughter and wife;
Her absence can lead to a dull and colorless life.
She is the bearer of generations to follow;
Her dignity is pious and vital Yet hollow.
She is the incarnation of goddesses galore;
But devotion and affection for her is impure.
Her security and protection are a far cry in this world;
She lives in constant fear of violence absurd.
Education and Equality she seeks everywhere;
But, oppression and discrimination is always her share.
She has the willpower to harness novice creations;
Her life is spent in futile endeavors and endless suffocation.
A ray of new hope is her perpetual desire;
She has the capacity to win this world with her immense power.
