

Become a Member of ELTAI

Membership in the English Language Teachers' Association of India (ELTAI) offers educators, students, institutions, and organisations a meaningful opportunity to belong to a vibrant professional community committed to the growth of English language and literature education. Being a member of a professional association like ELTAI goes beyond holding a formal affiliation; it opens doors to continuous professional development, academic networking, leadership opportunities, and active engagement with current debates and practices in the field. Members benefit from access to conferences, workshops, webinars, journals, and collaborative platforms that support both personal growth and collective advancement of the profession.

Membership in ELTAI is open to any Indian citizen, whether residing in India or abroad, and to individuals of any nationality who reside in India. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age, and the membership fee is payable in Indian rupees. Through its inclusive membership policy, ELTAI brings together a diverse body of professionals united by a shared commitment to strengthening English language teaching and learning across contexts.

NOTE: Detailed information on membership benefits for each category is available on our website. Visit the website to obtain or renew your membership and make payments online at <https://eltai.in/>

Journal of English Language Teaching (JELT)

Founded in 1965, the Journal of English Language Teaching (JELT) is India's longest-standing and most respected journal in the field of English language education. As the flagship publication of the English Language Teachers' Association of India (ELTAI), JELT serves as a scholarly forum for English language educators, teacher trainers, and researchers to exchange academic insights and evidence-based pedagogical practices.

As an international, double-blind peer-reviewed, diamond open-access journal, JELT upholds rigorous academic standards and contributes to the advancement of research in English language teaching. It is published bimonthly, producing six issues annually. Committed to fostering professional development in English language teaching and research, JELT accepts submissions throughout the year, facilitating a sustained academic discourse on emerging trends and best practices in ELT. For further information on the journal, access to past issues, and submission guidelines, please visit <https://journals.eltai.in/jelt>

Any correspondence related to the Journal of English Language Teaching should be sent to the editor-in-chief at jelt.editor@gmail.com.
