

STERN PIECE OF ART

Dr. Mridul Dora

Her heart, her emotions
As delicate as glass;
Her voice softer than the tinkling of those thin glasses;
her purity
a symbol of divinity;
her serenity
dedicated to heavenly calmness
... were tried and tried until She crashed off...
... but with a ray of hope... all those crashed glass elements
she conjured,
furnished them with vibrant colours,
added a tinch of fume – they all sparkled graciously,
added a pinch of gloss
made them brighter,
joined together
to make a wholesome sculpture, which now adorns her beauty,
makes her a stunner.
Now she's not a piece of glass
She's a piece of art –
She's a sterner piece of art.
